Standard Gauge Railway (SGR) in Kenya

The SGR project is an important part of the railway network in East Africa, which includes the Mombasa-Nairobi SGR and the Nairobi-Malaba SGR. With 472 km long, Mombasa-Nairobi SGR won ENR 2018 Award of Merit Rail, "China Construction Engineering Luban Award (Overseas Project)" in 2019 and National Quality Engineering Gold Award. With 120km long, Nairobi-Malaba SGR was open to traffic in Oct. 2019.

Similar projects CRBC has constructed include Beijing-Shanghai High Speed Railway Project, Taiyuan-Zhongwei-Yinchuan High Speed Railway Passenger Dedicated Line, Datong-Xi'an Railway Passenger Dedicated Railway.

The Phnom Penh-Sihanoukville Expressway in Cambodia

As invested-built-operated-transferred by CRBC, it is the first expressway in Cambodia, and the largest overseas investment infrastructure project undertaken by CRBC and its parent company CCCC, connecting the capital Phnom Penh and Sihanoukville Port, with a total length of about 187.05 kilometers. It is a two-way four-lane fully enclosed expressway with the design speed of 100 kilometers per hour.

This 'Belt and Road' expressway is highly valued by the heads of states of China and Cambodia, which consolidate the friendship of the two countries and strengthen the bonds between China and ASEAN.

Urban Sewage treatment projects in Serbia

Urban Sewage treatment projects in Serbia include the renovation and new construction of sewage discharge pipe networks and sewage treatment systems in 73 cities (93 regions).

Taking the opportunity of 'China-CEEC Cooperation's Year of Green Development and Environmental Protection', the project is the most significant fruit for the cooperation in deepening green economy and clean energy. As the environmental protection project signed by a Chinese company overseas with the largest contract amount, the implementation of this project will actively support the cooperation between China and Serbia in the field of environmental protection.

New Kipevu Oil Terminal Project in Kenya

The KOT project is located in Mombasa, which is the largest international open tender project in Kenya market for recent years. The construction includes dredging, wharf, oil pipeline and other work content with high technical standards and difficulty in design and construction, showing the comprehensive strength of Chinese enterprises in the field of international project contracting. While the project is completed and put into operation, it will realize the transfer function of various oil products in Kenya, greatly improve the efficiency of oil circulation and promote economic development.

Peljesac Bridge Project in Croatia

The project is about 4km long. The main bridge, with a length of 2440m, is a six-tower low-span cable-stayed bridge with central steel box girder and single cable surface.

Similar projects CRBC has undertaken include the Surabaya-Madura Strait-crossing Bridge in Indonesia, Matupo Bridge and Link Roads Project in Mozambique, Zemun-Borca Bridge with the Accompanying Roads Project in Serbia, Brazzaville Riverbank Driveway Cable-stayed Bridge in Congo-Brazzaville, Cao Lanh Bridge Project in Vietnam.

Rashakai Special Economic Zone (RSEZ) in Pakistan

As the flagship project under the industrial cooperation of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), the project has been designated as a Prioritized Special Economic Zone (PSEZ) by the China-Pakistan Joint Cooperation Committee (JCC).

RSEZ covers a total area of 1,000 acres, is planned to be developed in three phases. In March 2023, the Taking-over Certificate of Phase I was issued, marking a significant milestone in the project. Currently, 73% of the plots available for sale in Phase-I has been signed, and one third among which have commenced factory construction.

According to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, freshwater resources for daily life, industrial development and agricultural use will face a serious shortage in the future. How to solve the contradiction between industrial development demand and environmental carrying capacity is a prominent problem faced by all governments. Seawater desalination and wastewater reclamation are important means to optimize the allocation of water resources in world's water-scarce areas. The yearly market volume are expected to reach US $25.6 billion and US $30.5 billion respectively by 2030, with broad market prospects. China's solution is to promote the application of the latest membrane technology through scientific and technological innovation, reduce the energy consumption and carbon emissions during seawater desalination and sewage recycling, which is expected to save tens of billions of dollars in water supply costs and reduce carbon dioxide emissions by 10 million tons. We aim to build an ecological civilization system for all countries in the world, promote the green transformation of economic and social development. Moderator <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Yang Xing Deputy General Manager, China Urban-Rural Holding Group Co.,Ltd.</li></ul> Opening Remarks <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Chui Sai Cheong President, Macao Chamber of Commerce</li><li>● Yu Xiaohong Vice Chairman, China International Contractors Association</li><li>● Tam Vai Man Director, Environmental Protection Bureau of Macao</li><li>● Sun Liqiang Assistant General Manager, China Communications Construction Group Ltd.</li><li>● Hu Guodan Chairman, China Urban-Rural Holding Group Co., Ltd.</li></ul> Keynote Speech Topic: Green &amp; Low-carbon Water Business

09:30-12:00 Ballroom D Level 3	Parallel Forum 5: ESG Empowerment and Green Financing for Sustainable Infrastructure--MISIP Annual Meeting As sustainable infrastructure becomes a much discussed topic in the field of international infrastructure, ESG standards provide important direction and momentum for infrastructure’s transition towards green, low-carbon and sustainability. Among this, biodiversity conservation is put on the high agenda. In December 2022, the "Kunming-Montreal Global Biodiversity Framework" reached at the 15th meeting of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity proposed that all parties should take urgent actions to stop and reverse the loss of biodiversity before 2030. This put new demands on global collaboration especially that in the infrastructure sector. Green finance, as an effective tool in leveraging climate investment and financing green and low-carbon projects, plays an important role in the green transition of global infrastructure. Under the MISIP mechanism, this parallel forum invites experts from government departments, financial institutions, enterprises, NGOs and professional institutions to discuss ESG and green finance-related issues of attention. Experts will also share expertise and best practices in order to guide relevant parties in taking climate resilience, biodiversity into financing decision and to explore pathways in developing sustainable infrastructure. Moderator <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Zhang Xiang Vice Chairman, China International Contractors Association</li></ul> Welcome Remark <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Maria Catalina E.
